

The Intelligencer.

The sale of the Belmont Mills comes off today at 10 a. m., at the Court House. Twice before it has been sold at a bargain, and a great deal of money made by the purchasers.

The rains of the last two days, falling at intervals and accompanied by a close sultry atmosphere, have started the corn to jumping. It grows has been quite perceptible in that short time. As for potatoes, they promise to be an immense crop, and some of them are already as large as some eggs.

The Harrison county, West Virginia, stock dealers are negotiating with the Pennsylvania Railroad to transport their cattle, horses, sheep and hogs from Uniontown to Philadelphia and Baltimore at prices much lower than those now charged on the Baltimore and Ohio. It is claimed that the Pennsylvania Road offers to transport them from Uniontown at about one-half the present rates on the Baltimore and Ohio.

The rates on grain, hails and iron goods, in any quantity (car load or less), between Wheeling and Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, are as follows: Baltimore 10¢, Philadelphia 11¢, New York 13¢.

On wool the rates are as follows: Philadelphia 46¢, New York 48¢, Boston 53¢, Providence 83¢.

The rates to other points on nails are as follows: Chicago 15¢, St. Louis 25¢, Cincinnati 12¢, Indianapolis 17¢.

Just at this time the local business is very heavy into and out of the B. & O. depot. They are doing a very large general merchandise business between Wheeling and the interior, and are bringing in large quantities of lumber, bark, &c.

The Latest From the Okonkwa States.—"Democracy and Nothing but Democracy."

We have on our table the issue of the Okonkwa, Miss. States for June 25th. It is an unusually interesting number, because it puts its foot down square and ventilates its creed in an explicit and unmistakable platform, headed "Democracy and nothing but Democracy." The planks in its platform are enumerated one by one, and are set in double leaded type, as follows:

I. Vindicate the right of Secession. II. Make treason odious by making Okonkwans the Grant and Seward. V. Glorify the grand, immortal patriots like Jefferson Davis, Stuart, Barksdale and Lee.

VI. Make free schools, and all New England principles, so-called, simply infernal. VII. The principle of a Confederacy; the abstract right of Secession; Our Labor System—all these will in the future stand forth among those things which Catholicism has defiled.

VIII. Honor to Jefferson Davis—Honor to the Southern Confederacy—Honor to the Bonnie Blue. XI. The South and Southern principles must triumph, or civilization must come to a standstill.

Through red hearts' blood, and glare of fires of burning cities; through death that grinned at us with set teeth; through horrors and gloom of which we may not speak, we have made a path for the principles of truth, and by the living God we will never surrender them until we witness their supreme vindication.

BROOKS COUNTY. Col. Ben—The Public Health—Bishop Kain—Bishop College—The Coal Shaft Project.

"All honor to our noble Ben," says the Panhandle News. "Wilson had better be a statesman than a mule," says the Wheeling Register. The friends can take their choice.

The doctors report the general health in their respective beats as rather distressingly good. Very little sickness of a serious nature is reported.

Bishop Kain, of the Catholic Church, delivered a discourse on Sabbath last that we have heard highly spoken of; his audience being about equally Protestant and Catholic, and as large as the house would hold conveniently. Several confirmations were made during his visit.

We are in receipt of a catalogue of Bethany College for the session just prepared. There are very few institutions of learning in the country better equipped with the appliances for getting a good education than Bethany, and the extensive territory over which its patronage extends shows that the fact is appreciated.

The various claims are endorsed and well filled, and the college has been long enough in operation to have its graduates fill responsible and prominent positions in public life sufficient to advertise its merits. The next session begins in September.

We hope to be able to give our readers some good news in regard to the much talked of Coal Shaft project, in our next issue, to the effect that its prosecution may be relied upon with certainty. It is sufficient for the present, to say that the Eastern parties who are entirely responsible for the purpose and very probably by the close of this week the selection and purchase of the location will be effected. In that event, work will begin early in July and be prosecuted thereafter with all diligence.

P. S.—Since the above was in type, late Thursday afternoon, the purchase of the location has been closed, $300,000 from Jas. D. Lacey, and a payment made on the property. The Coal Shaft may now be set down for a fixed fact, and upon the same we take pleasure in congratulating all concerned.

The Explanation of Col. Ben's Remark About the President. Ben Wilson, who represents the First West Virginia District in Congress, has been interviewed again. This time by a reporter of the Washington Post, the subject of the interview being the present Democratic dilemma in connection with the late election, what he would do for "His Fraudulency," &c. Had he been as drunk as he was at a former interview he would simply have said the President and the U. S. Courts "might go to hell." Such is the character of the man our moral friends in the First District send to Congress.

WASHINGTON. KIDNAPING OF LADY CLERKS.

WASHINGTON, June 27.—The lack of appropriate care in the legislative bill has made it necessary to discharge 15 lady clerks.

DEMOCRATIC BLENDER. WASHINGTON, June 26.—It is regarded as a good joke to be enjoyed by the country (and paid for by the taxpayers) that the Democratic Congress forced an extra session which has cost about one million of dollars, and the net result is that they have got the President to sign a bill against the use of troops at the polls as a police force. When it is further known that he has opposed such use all the time, never having employed them that way, and never intending to, and never contending that he had a right to the attitude of the Democrats is very ridiculous, and they will be put to their trumps next fall to answer the questions as to these matters which will naturally suggest themselves.

Stump speakers who are going to Ohio for the Republicans say that of all the weak points in a party whose cause has been illustrated by blunders, this last is about the largest, and will be made to serve excellent effect there this summer and fall.

MARSHALS AND THEIR DEPUTIES. Probabilities of a Second Call Session—Interfering with Customs and Revenues.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—The second branch of the Judicial Expenses bill, containing the appropriation for marshals, with the provision forbidding its application to their duties in connection with elections, will pass the House to-morrow, and it is the intention of the Democrats to put both bills through the Senate on Friday, and get them to the President on that day, if possible, and by Saturday at farthest.

The bills will probably come back to Congress together, the first approved, the second with a veto. Senator Davis, Chairman of the Senate Appropriation Committee, has in his hands a resolution for adjournment, with the hour and day blank, which he is authorized to offer at his pleasure. The Democrats will seek to secure a veto as possible after they get the veto. That they will be called back by the President immediately is suspected, but not known.

The failure to appropriate for the pay of marshals and their deputies now prove to be a much more serious matter than would appear at first consideration. It would seriously embarrass the collection of customs everywhere, and more seriously with internal revenue, especially the whisky tax in the seven moon-shining States.

UNIVERSITY BOAT RACE. Harvard Gains an Easy Victory Over Yale.

NEW LONDON, June 27.—The University boat race resulted in an easy victory for the Harvard. Owing to the rough water a start was not made till 7:25. Yale caught water first, and at the end of half a dozen strokes gained a slight advantage, both going at 40 strokes; but the Yale lead was only temporary. Soon the powerful strokes by the Harvard forced their boat ahead in line with the Yale. At half a mile the Harvard was a good length in the lead which the Yale spurred manfully to lessen, and did succeed in diminishing it a few feet but this effort seemed to consume all the bottom there was in their boat, so from this point it was merely a question how great a distance the Harvard would be ahead at the end.

At the first mile Harvard was six lengths ahead and doing 30, Yale 33. Thence to a mile and a half Harvard was lower by stroke to less than 33, pulling magnificently throughout, and rapidly opening the water again. Yale labored fearfully, and seemed to be entirely broken up, so much so as to excite sympathy from the crowd. There was but little excitement as the crews swept down to the finish. The last half mile was as fine an exhibition of rowing on the part of Harvard as ever seen, their boat fairly jumping through the water, and carrying them to the finish between one-quarter and one-half mile ahead. Official time 22:15 for Harvard and 23:38 for Yale.

Here's a Change. CINCINNATI, June 27.—Several months ago the Musical Festival Association of Cincinnati offered a prize of one thousand dollars for the best musical composition by a native American composer, to be sung at the musical festival in 1880. Mr. Theodore Thomas was appointed by the Association one of five gentlemen who are to judge the merits of the work. Since that time the other four judges have been appointed and have accepted the trust. All the Board is as follows: Theo. Thomas, President; Dr. Leopold Damrosch, of New York; Asger Hamerock, Baltimore; Otto Singer, Cincinnati; and Carl Zerrahn, Boston.

Our Imperial Caesar. SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—The steamer Belgica from Hong Kong, June 1st, brings the following: (Grant is en route from Tientsin to Peking. The latest advices indicate a considerable change in his future movements, but it is believed probable he may return to China after visiting Japan, and proceed to Australia. The plans are subject to so many sudden alterations, however, that nothing absolutely certain is known a month in advance.

THE SPINNERS' STRIKE.

The Weavers' Deliberate They Pass Resolutions—The Spinning Discharge the Spinnings, their Cousins, Nieces and Ancestors.

FALL RIVER, June 27.—The weavers held a large meeting in the Spinner's Hall to-night, but the intense heat confined it to one hour duration. Short speeches were made by some of the old standbys of the operatives, and the hope was expressed that the spinners would stand firm until the manufacturers yielded.

The sentiment of the meeting seemed to be that the weavers should aid the spinners, but it was voted (resolution given below touching this point) to be laid on the table until the next meeting in the park to-morrow, when it is expected a much larger number of weavers will be present. The other four resolutions were unanimously adopted. The following are the resolutions:

Resolved, That as a large number of weavers are thrown on the streets, and the remainder are likely to follow in a few days, and as the small pittance received as wages rendered it impossible to save anything, therefore we are compelled to seek relief from the city, especially those who have families. These we advise to do so at once, and to leave the children in the care of the city, as we have been thrown on the streets through the selfishness of the manufacturers, who have compelled us to share the depression in business to the extent of 15 per cent reduction in our wages, and who refuse to give us at least a share in the present prosperity of the cotton trade, therefore it is just that the wealth of the city, created entirely by the operatives, should now be required to furnish the means to prevent suffering among us, and we shall hold said authorities responsible for the distress that may take place through their negligence or refusal to relieve.

Resolved, That we hold up to popular contempt and execration the action of the manufacturers in discharging the spinners, old and young, cousins, nieces and aunts, even though they live and work in other parts of the city, thereby being a large number in the labor market.

Resolved, That the thanks of the weavers be extended to Aldermen Leonard, Connelly and Sweeney for their action in refusing to confirm a large number of the several spinners studies as special police, and as the situation, and as the mills that are attempting to run are doing so at a ruinous loss, and as the boys, women and old men attempting to run the mills are so incapable of performing arduous work and are only injuring the machinery, therefore, we do not advise the weavers to strike, but the manufacturers are demonstrating their weakness and their utterly futile attempt to run the mills.

At the weavers' meeting to-night a large number of the weavers were held in a "shop" meeting after the general meeting. It was voted to work to-morrow, but after that date their action will be determined by a meeting to-morrow.

Matters began to look interesting here, and the question now is will the weavers strike and make the strike general, or will they leave the spinners to fight out alone the battle begun by them. The spinners have issued a circular appealing for assistance to the workmen of America.

FALL RIVER, June 27.—The mills are all running this morning, with the exception of the Narragansett, which shut down yesterday. Some of the mills gained a few spinners to-day, while others lost, but on the whole there has been a gain of ten pairs of males. There is no intimidation by violence, but the manufacturers say that threats are made, and a number at work yesterday are out to-day through fear. The men who came here have been returned by the spinners. The depots are all watched and imported help is not allowed to return. A crowd of spinners waited on the Mayor this morning, asking that the extra police be withdrawn from the streets and kept at the station, where they could be readily called on in case of trouble. The Mayor said he would try to act as a disinterested party during the strike, but would preserve order, and the extra police were put on to prevent disturbances. The spinners would not be interfered with by the police if they preserved order.

Disastrous Boiler Explosion. PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—An explosion of the boiler at Will's extensive planing mill, on Front and Broad streets, caused great consternation. The engine house and a portion of the mill were blown in all directions, doing much damage. Several dwelling houses in the vicinity are wrecked. The dead body of the engineer has been taken from the ruins. The boiler was the work of the explosion was driven into the second story of a dwelling occupied by a family named Long. Claude Long, eight years old, was killed and his sister Stella, eleven years old, was badly hurt. The mother, Mrs. Ann McAvoy, is missing, and is believed to be buried in the ruins.

Mrs. McAvoy was found alive in the ruins, but she died soon after being extricated.

The evening the dead body of Eva Long was found sitting with a fork in one hand and a broken cup handle in the other. Stella Long has since died from her injuries.

Murder and Suicide. SAN FRANCISCO, June 27.—To-day, at Cata City, just across the bay, R. H. Moore, keeper of the Dupont Powder Company's magazine, shot and instantly killed A. Fulton, the manager of the works, and then blew his own brains out. The tragedy was enacted in the presence of Fulton's wife and children. Fulton had recently given Moore notice that he would discontinue his further service.

FORTY-SIXTH CONGRESS.

The Judicial Expenses Bill Passes the Senate—The Political Fragment of the Bill Passes the House by a Party Vote.

WASHINGTON, June 27. SENATE.

Mr. Vest's resolution declaring in favor of free coinage and remonetization of silver was taken up and during debate Messrs. Kernan, Ferry and Allison, proposed against this method of instructing the Finance Committee. There was not time this session to mature measure, vitally affecting the whole financial system and indirectly the industries of the country. Hence the silver bill had been postponed, but not indefinitely. The committee was pledged to act on it early in December.

Mr. Vest called attention to the fact that the resolution was solely an expression of intent to show the country how the Senate stood.

Mr. Allison moved to refer the resolution to the Finance Committee.

Mr. Allison opposed the motion. To refer this was a mere expression of the abstract opinion. The Finance Committee had nothing to do with it, and could not report on it.

Mr. Allison further objected, and said that the resolution looked to unlimited coinage, which would drive gold out of the country, and flood us with European bullion.

After further debate Mr. Vest offered the following as a substitute for his first resolution to obviate any circumlocution as to its workings:

Resolved, That a complete remonetization of silver and its restoration to parity with gold, both as coin and bullion, are demanded alike by dictates of justice and wise Statesmanship.

The morning hour expiring, the resolution goes over until to-morrow.

The resolution providing additional pay for Congressional employees was again taken up.

The amendments of Messrs. Wallace and Ingalls concerning the judicial expenses bill, political assessments bill, &c., were withdrawn by unanimous consent.

The resolution passed as reported from the committee, with slight amendment.

Mr. Eaton reported from the Committee on Judiciary, without amendments, the judicial expenses bill, as reported by the committee.

He said there would no attempt by the majority to shorten the debate and a session could not be forced. The bill was then considered.

Several amendments were offered but rejected, and the bill was finally passed.

After the transaction of some other business the presiding officer laid before the Senate the bill from the President of the United States, transmitting a veto of Senate Bill No. 539 for the relief of Joseph B. Collins referred to the Committee on Military Affairs.

Adjourned.

HOUSE.

At the morning hour the private business was dispensed with, and the House went into Committee of the Whole on the bill appropriating $900,000 to pay the fees of U. S. Marshals and their deputies. General debate on the bill was limited to one hour. The debate was opened by Mr. Garfield. He grouped some of the leading points made at the present session on the Democratic side. These propositions were that there are no national elections; that the United States have no voters; that the States exclusively have the right to conduct and control the election of members of Congress; that Senators and Representatives are State officers, agents and ambassadors; that the United States have no authority to keep the peace within a State, and have no power to keep the United States from not a nation but a confederacy of States, and finally that the States are sovereign. He declared these propositions constituted a body of doctrine which he believed to be the basis of the present crisis of secession. He believed those doctrines to be erroneous and vicious, and proceeded to lay down and support by argument the former proposition.

Mr. Garfield went on to show the fallacy of the idea that States are sovereign, and declared that the question had been decided in the negative not only by the Supreme Court in a long line of decisions, but by the action of the States themselves, but that now it seemed that the question was not to be allowed to settle, for the people had been told recently in the South that the lost cause was not lost, and that the men who had fought against the Union had not been vanquished, but that in conclusion he predicted that the bill which had been before wrecked in another hall was about starting out on a short, disastrous and ignominious voyage.

Mr. Garfield went on to show the fallacy of the idea that States are sovereign, and declared that the question had been decided in the negative not only by the Supreme Court in a long line of decisions, but by the action of the States themselves, but that now it seemed that the question was not to be allowed to settle, for the people had been told recently in the South that the lost cause was not lost, and that the men who had fought against the Union had not been vanquished, but that in conclusion he predicted that the bill which had been before wrecked in another hall was about starting out on a short, disastrous and ignominious voyage.

After further debate the committee rose and reported the bill to the House, and it was passed. Yeas, 88, nays, 69.

Several Greenback members were present, but none voted, and he casting his vote in the affirmative.

The Senate joint resolution, for the appointment of a joint committee of the two Houses, to take into consideration what the State's Constitution requires in the mode of collecting and gathering the revenues of the Government, was referred to the Committee of the Whole.

Mr. Olymper, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported the bill correcting the error in the bill appropriating $100,000 to the Arctic Sea in a few days.

FOREIGN NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN. SACKING OF A PROTESTANT SCHOOL HOUSE.

LONDON, June 27.—A Protestant school house in Moyres, Galway county, Ireland, has been sacked by thirty persons who came from a distance. Bibles were thrown into the sea. This is a revival of the disturbances which had been quelled after occasioning some alarm in that district some weeks ago.

In connection with the sacking of the school house at Moyres, Ireland, Mr. Lawther, Chief Secretary for Ireland, announced in the House of Commons to-day that the government was firmly resolved to preserve order, irrespective of the religion of the persons engaged in the outrages.

FRANCE. TURNING OVER.

PARIS, June 27.—Laroche Jaubert, Bonapartist, lately veering towards Republicanism, is about to resign his seat in the Chamber of Deputies, that his son may stand as a Republican candidate.

SOME CAN'T SWALLOW IT.

PARIS, June 27.—The Saïr says it is asserted in the lobbies of the Chambers that the government on the occasion of the distribution of the new colors of the army, will require the Generals to take the oath of allegiance to the Republic.

This resolution, long demanded by the members of the majority, has been taken in consequence of the manifestations of some of the General officers. It is expected the government will refuse to take the oath and retire.

THE TURK. Toledo Races.

TOLEDO, O., June 27.—The racing race, postponed yesterday, was won by Sleepy Tom, who took the sixth heat in 2:23; Sallie second, Rowdy Boy third; Lucy and Mattie Hunter ruled out.

In the 2:20 class there were ten entries and six starters. Elsie Good was the favorite, 2 to 1; against the field. Lew Scott, 1, 1, 1; Belle Brassfield, 2, 2, 3; Post Boy, 3, 2; Dictator, 4, 4, 5; Monroe Child, 5, 5, 4; Elsie Good distanced.

The free for all race had four entries. Proteine and Harris started; Midnight and Col. Lewis drawn. Won by Proteine in three straight heats. Time, 2:24, 2:25, 2:24.

The closed meeting, which had been well attended throughout and favored with fine weather. In all respects it has been a decided success.

A COMING EVENT. LOUISVILLE, June 27.—The excitement in Kentucky over the five year old and under trot to take place on the 10th of July at Louisville, grows out of the fact that the two crack four-year-olds, So-So and Trunket, have accepted the handicap of a year, and the race is believed to be between them. So-So is working well. She trotted a quarter this season in 32 seconds, and her endurance and steady trotting have established. Trunket trotted last fall, but her third old form, a quarter in the same time, 32 seconds, and it is believed that she has more speed than So-So. Either, however, can speed better than a 2:38 gait, and they are without rivals. Each filly has its partisans and backers, and as the time for the contest approaches the excitement increases. It promises to be the most exciting race ever trotted here.

The Wheeling Register has entered into the "intervening" business, and is collecting and publishing what is pretended to be the opinions of prominent men throughout the State relative to political matters. Monday's edition of the Register contained what purported to be an interview with its correspondent and John W. Mason, Esq., of this town, and Col. J. K. Smith, of Fetterman. A Sentinel reporter, who interviewed the gentleman, finds no such "interview" as appeared in the Register ever took place to their knowledge and its appearance in the Register was a great surprise to both victims. It is our opinion that the Register's style of "intervening" is not calculated to inspire confidence in the public mind as to the truth of its statements of matters political.

FAIRMONT.

When Cutting a Pretextation Against Bank Burglars—A Non-Gov. Peirpoint Proposed New Judicial Circuit.

FAIRMONT, June 27.—Many of our farmers are now busily engaged in harvesting their wheat. It is, as a general thing, in good condition for cutting, and will be easily gathered.

No robbers nor burglars have been about, we believe, but as a further protection from them the officials of the First National Bank of this place have placed an iron railing some three feet high or more on the top of the counter of that institution.

Willie Peirpoint (son of Governor Peirpoint) arrived in town last Saturday, fresh from the halls of Adrian (Michigan) College, to spend vacation with his friends. He is as handsome as ever, and has the appearance of being in excellent health, after ten months of hard study.

The Wheeling Intelligencer has recently published several very interesting and well written letters from Miss Belle Old, now a missionary at Bangkok, Siam, formerly of this place.

The proposition to establish a substitute for the County Court in the counties of Marion, Marshall and Weir, by making them a district within themselves, with their own judge, holding courts in each county four times a year and doing the business usually transacted by the County Court, is beginning to attract the attention of the people of this county. So far we have not heard very much said on the subject, but that little has generally been in favor of it. Those who have been growing at the County Court now have an opportunity to try another system. If the subject goes to the transaction of legal business and decrease the cost of it, those who are not "eternally at law," let it be adopted by all means. At all events, we can change back again if we do not like it, without going through the tedious formality of an amendment to the Constitution.
